

What we do
Who we are
News
Contact Us
Home

Who we are

Zing! Development Strategies brings more than 20 years of creative thinking to real estate development including:

- Significant awards, such as the 2002 Business Park of the Year from National Association of Industrial and Office Properties, the 2000 Women of Influence Award from Colorado Real Estate Women, and the 1999 Sustainable Community Award from the Conference of Mayors and National Association of Counties
- Redevelopment of the former Lowry Air Force Base, a national model for urban redevelopment and smart growth. Over the course of eight years, Zing's founder directed \$123 million in land and building sales resulting in $1.1 billion in vertical development. More than 25,000 people currently live, work and go to school there, and the project has generated a $5.7 billion economic impact to metro Denver
- Retail leasing, due diligence for new projects, and analysis for market conditions and proposed acquisitions for Safeway Companies, PrimeWest, and Lamar Properties
- Marketing management of one million square feet of PrimeWest retail properties metro-wide including assets such as Fillmore Place (Cherry Creek), Arapahoe Village (Boulder), and London Square (Aurora)
- Professional affiliations include National Association of Industrial and Office Properties, The Urban Land Institute, University of Denver Burns School of Real Estate and Construction Management, and Children's Hospital Oncology Advisory Board of Directors

